ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF ASSISTANCE

All manuscripts utilizing data made available through the Consortium should acknowledge that fact as well as identify the original collector of the data. The ICPSR council urges all users of ICPSR data facilities to follow some adaptation of this statement with the parentheses indicating items to be filled in appropriately or deleted by the individual user.

> The data (and tabulations) utilized in this (publication) were made available (in part) by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research. The data for the Revivals in New York and Ohio, 1825-1835 were originally collected by John L. Hammond. Neither the original collectors of the data nor the Consortium bear any responsibility for the analyses or interpretations presented here.

In order to provide funding agencies with essential information about the use of archival resources, and to facilitate the exchange of information about ICPSR participants' research activities, each user of the ICPSR data facilities is expected to send two copies of each completed manuscript or thesis abstract to the Consortium. Please indicate in the cover letter which data were used.

STUDY DESCRIPTION

Data for eight variables which describe characteristics of 1,952 religious revivals in New York State and 431 in Ohio conducted between 1825 and 1835. Variables include location (county, state, and town), sequence number, source of report, year, type of report, and number of people involved. There is one file for each state.

REVIVALS, New York and Ohio
1825-1835
Codebook

The unit of analysis in this data set is the reported revival. All extant issues of ten Protestant periodicals were examined for the years 1825-1835 (the exact years for each periodical are listed below), and every report of the revival was noted. Each report was coded as to town, county, year, source, nature of report, and number of people reported to have been affected (e.g., number of conversions).

Where successive issues contained reports from the same town, they were taken to refer to the same event and only one event was coded. If different numbers of people were reported as affected, the largest number was coded. Many reports referred to towns which could not be located in countires; those reports were disregarded.

For further information, see John L. Hammond, The Politics of Benevolence: Revival Religion and American Voting Behavior (Norwood, N.J., Ablex Publishing Corp., 1979).

Research was supported by NIMH.

14 Type of report:

For a value of 1-3, columns 15-18 will be blank, and the report simply related the occurrence of a revival. For a value of 4-9, the report stated that a revival occurred and related the number of people affected; the code in column 14 tells the meaning of the number in columns 15-18.

1 "appearances"
2 revival occurred
3 revival occurred: Presbytery report
4 number anxious
5 number hopeful conversions

6 number on probation

7 number converted

8 number new church members admitted on examination

9 number new church members

15-18 Number affected
