Three-Year In-Home Longitudinal Study of Pre-School Aged Children

We used two versions of the instrument, one for the survey conducted in the two pilot cities and the other for the survey conducted in the other eighteen cities. The two versions of the instrument are similar but not identical and they are both included for reference. The details about the differences in the contents of the two versions of the instrument are available in the User's Guide distributed for the release of data set InHome3Yr (filename: UserGuide InHome3Yr March08.pdf)
