INTRODUCTION

STUDY DESCRIPTION

The 1995 Census of State and Federal Adult Correctional Facilities was the fifth enumeration of State institutions and the second of Federal institutions sponsored by the Bureau of Justice Statistics and conducted by the Bureau of the Census. Earlier censuses were completed in 1974, 1979, 1984, and 1990. As in previous enumerations, the 1995 census provided the sample frame for its companion survey, the 1997 Survey of Inmates in State and Federal Correctional Facilities. The censuses use the facility as the unit of analysis, whereas the surveys use the inmate.

The first prison census was conducted in approximately 600 facilities in 1974, and the second in 791 facilities in 1979. Both of these censuses were conducted parallel with the Survey of Inmates of State Correctional Facilities. In the 1990 census, data were collected from 957 state prison facilities, 250 state community-based facilities, and 80 federal prisons, while the 1995 census collected data from 125 federally authorized prisons, and 1,375 state authorized facilities.

In the 1995 Census facility respondents were asked to provide information on physical security, age of facilities, functions of facilities, capacity, court orders for specific conditions, one day counts and average populations, race/ethnicity of inmates, inmate work assignments, inmate deaths, special inmate counts, assaults, and incidents by inmates.

ACCESSING THIS DATASET

Data and documentation related to the Census of State and Federal Adult Correctional Facilities, 1995 may be obtained from the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data at the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research by contacting http://www.icpsr.umich.edu/NACJD.
Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics, the census data collection for the 1995 Census was conducted by the Bureau of the Census on behalf of the Bureau of Justice Statistics.

The facility universe was developed from the Census of State and Federal Correctional Facilities, 1990. The list was revised using the 1995 American Correctional Association Directory and information obtained from State correctional administrators and the Federal Bureau of Prisons.

The census included the following types of State and Federal adult correctional facilities: prisons, prison farms, reception, diagnostic and classification centers, road camps, forestry and conservation camps, youthful offender facilities (except in California), vocational training facilities, drug and alcohol treatment facilities, and state-operated local detention facilities in Alaska, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

Facilities were included in the census if they: 1) were staffed with federal, state, local, or private employees; 2) housed primarily state or federal prisoners; 3) were physically, functionally, and administratively separate from other facilities; and 4) were in operation on June 30, 1995. The census also included 110 private facilities under exclusive contract to State governments and the Federal Bureau of Prisons to house prisoners. In addition, it included 16 facilities under joint authority, including those owned and staffed by State employees providing services to multiple counties for a fee; facilities co-owned by the State and counties that shared in their operation; and facilities staffed by county employees who were State-certified for correctional administration.

Specifically excluded from the census were: 1) privately operated facilities that were not exclusively for state or federal inmates; 2) military facilities; 3) Immigration and Naturalization Service facilities; 4) Bureau of Indian Affairs facilities; 5) facilities operated and administered by local governments, including those housing state prisoners; 6) facilities operated by the U.S. Marshals Service; 7) hospital wings and wards reserved for state prisoners.

Unlike in 1984 and 1990 when respondents in community correctional facilities were asked to complete the CJ-42 questionnaire and respondents in confinement facilities were asked to complete the CJ-43, all respondents in 1995 were sent the same survey form, the CJ-43.

Correctional facilities were classified as community-based if 50% or more of the residents were regularly permitted to leave the facility unaccompanied for work or study. These facilities included halfway houses, restitution centers, and prerelease, work release, and study release centers. Correctional facilities in which less than 50% of the inmates regularly left the facility unaccompanied were classified as confinement institutions.

The reference date for the one day count of residents/inmates and staff was June 30, 1995. Annual data were requested for the period ending between July 1, 1994 and June 30, 1995.

DATA COLLECTION PROCEDURES

The study was fielded for BJS by the Bureau of the Census. Questionnaires were mailed to respondents during the last week of June, 1995. A brief reminder note was faxed to tardy participants approximately two and a half months later, and telephone follow-ups were made throughout the fall, resulting in a final response rate of 100%.

DATA LIMITATIONS

When facilities did not provide data on a particular variable, estimated figures were accepted. Total figures were estimated by multiplying the known or reported numbers by the ratio of the total relevant population to the reported population.

Because the census was a complete enumeration, the results were not subject to sampling error.
CODEBOOK INFORMATION

The example below is a reproduction of information appearing in the machine-readable codebook for a typical variable. The numbers in brackets do not appear but are references to the descriptions which follow this example.

[9] Q.17.(c) [10] On June 30, 1995, what was the inmate count in this facility by custody level?

Actual number is coded.

[1] Variable number. A variable number is assigned to each variable in the data file.
[2] Variable label
[3] Every variable is assigned a reference number. In this example this number is identical with the variable number.
[4] Variable type: alphanumeric (CHAR) or numeric (NUM).
[7] The column location of the variable.
[8] Missing data codes (if any). In the example above, "999" is the code value designated as missing.
[9] Question number on the questionnaire.
[10] Full text (question) supplied by the investigator to describe the variable. This is the wording used on the original data collection instrument.

[12] "Actual number is coded" appears in the codebook to indicate that the variable has been declared continuous.

ICPSR PROCESSING INFORMATION

The data collection was processed according to the standard ICPSR processing procedures.

The data were checked for consistency, illegitimate skip patterns and illegal code values which were corrected or recoded to missing data values.

SAS and SPSS data definition statements were generated for the data file.

NOTES ON FEDERAL FACILITIES

GENERAL

Much of the reference data information reported for Federal facilities reflect September or October, 1995 time frames.

ITEM NOTES

Item 4 - The Federal Bureau of Prisons has a security level called "administrative". Its medical facilities are included in this category and were coded as "5" in the data file:

1860346660813000
2460556660801000
2660396660855000
4464396660813000
4464396660814000

Item 8 - The Federal Bureau of Prisons does not use the concept "design capacity". This item was keyed as "not applicable".

Item 18 - Some Federal facilities do not separately identify Hispanic inmates from whites and blacks. As a result Hispanic inmates are double counted in item 18 in the following facilities.

0360106660801000
0660036660801000
0760016660807800
1160606660801000
1160606660840000
1161516660801000
Items 36, 37, & 38 - Some of the Federal Bureau of Prisons facilities have one unit, called a special housing unit, that house inmates fitting disciplinary action, protective custody and administrative segregation situations. Others have 3 separate units. For the special housing units that do not provide a breakout of inmates in each category, the total number was keyed at Item 36 with a corresponding flag field of "2"; Items 37 and/or 38 were then keyed as "DK" in the data field with a flag code of "2".

Item 40 - All Federal Bureau of Prisons facilities answered "no" to this item. As of midyear 1995, Federal inmates under the sentence of death were housed in state contract facilities.
Comment flag - Federal Prison Camps that are not linked to a parent facility are coded as "1" in the comment flag field. These facilities are minimum security facilities with no fences, dorm housing and a low staff-inmate ratio.
